

The Final Test of a Car—Results

SUMMED up in every possible way, what the prospective purchaser of a motor car wants to know is—what can I do with the car before me? The kind of engine determines the power and economy of operation—the kind of transmission determines the ease with which one gets over the road—the size of the tires and wheels determines the comfort of riding—the compression release makes the car easy to crank—the cylinders being cast on bloc makes the engine simple and easy to care for, but all this mechanical description means nothing to the buyer if the car won't run—if it can't climb a hill—if it can't go where he wants it to go and come back—if it costs so much to go and come back that he can't afford to own it. So it is the results you want—the story of operation that you must have.

Some White Gasoline Car Results

There are hundreds of White owners who are getting enjoyment out of every spare moment of their lives—they are taking trips they have never taken before—enjoying scenery never viewed before—getting out of life more than life has meant to them heretofore; and yet, from Maine to Texas, from ocean to ocean, there comes but one story from them all—a story of enjoyment made doubly enjoyable because it costs so little. Every White owner talks to you of performance—every White owner talks to you of economy—there is not an owner of a White gasoline car to whom we could not refer you as a prospective buyer of one. Why?—because they are getting twenty miles as an average on a gallon of gasoline with a White "30"—because of the moderate size and weight of the car, their tire expense is abnormally low—because the car is so well built that there is practically no such thing as repair bills.

Possibly it's the kind of car you want—if so, write to-day for a 1912 announcement and the testimonials of owners.

Hickey, an attorney.

ORGANIC ACT SAFE FOR THIS SESSION

—CHAMP CLARK

No Time for Extended Fight in Congress.

SPEAKER REASSURES DISTRICT

Back from Chautauqua Circuit, House Leader Puts in Busy Day at Capitol—Silent on Bryan Attack, but Ready to Map Out Legislative Programme.

The Hon. Champ Clark, Speaker of the House, fresh from the chautauqua circuit, received at the Capitol yesterday.

Mr. Clark put in a busy day. He received between 75 and 100 newspaper men according to his secretary, Mr. Bassford, discussed District legislative matters in a general sort of way; denied the persistence of any "obscure" Canadian annexation idea; browsed over the Missouri political situation with Senator Stone, and tried to straighten out with Chairman Augustus O. Stanley the kinks in the committee investigation of the "steel trust," resulting from Representative Martin Littleton's desire to fight out in the committee the charges recently published against the New York member in New York paper. In addition, Mr. Clark gave out a prepared statement on the legislative prospects for the coming session.

Mr. Bryan's S-h-h!

The principal thing Mr. Clark did not do, to the evident disappointment of many, was to "come back" at William Jennings Bryan's recent attack on him in the Commons. On this subject Mr. Clark was about as talkative as a tongue-tied clam.

The Speaker discussed prospective District legislation in the House calendar. This fact, Mr. Clark believed, would prevent the bringing up of any District business that would call for extended discussion or would meet with widespread opposition.

District Need Not Fear.

Speaking of the reported forthcoming attempt on the part of Chairman Ben Johnson, of the House District Committee, to bring about radical changes in the organic law of the District, Mr. Clark said:

"I cannot see for the life of me where there will be any opportunity whatever at this coming session to tackle a subject of such vast importance, not only to the population of the National Capital, but to the people of the whole country, well, I know from my wide travels throughout the country that the people as a whole are interested in their Capital City.

"Personally, I do not feel that the people of the District of Columbia need ever feel alarm as a result of prospective legislation pending in Congress or over any discussion of propositions that may occur from time to time and which may strike the average resident of this city as being radical and revolutionary and as striking at the very foundation upon which the government of the city rests. Let them rather take the sensible view and appreciate that the average member of the Congress is as much interested in the National Capital as any resident of it, that he appreciates his responsibility as a member of the body which makes laws for this community, and that any action that may be taken will be carefully considered and undertaken with the idea of legislating for the future needs of the District."

Mr. Clark declined to comment in detail on specific legislation affecting the District on the ground that he had just returned and was not in close enough touch with local conditions.

Political Complexion Unchanged.

After sizing up the situation in nineteen States in the course of his lecture tour, the Speaker is convinced that the drift of sentiment throughout the country is toward the Democratic party and that the Republicans are on the run. "President Taft's long trip," said the Speaker, "seems to have left things in status quo so far as he is concerned."

The Speaker made no prediction that the tariff question will be the overwhelming issue at the coming session of Congress, and with it the trust question. "I have always considered the tariff question and the trust question as one," he said. "Of course, the fact that President Taft vetoed our tariff bills will lengthen the session, as some new tariff bills will undoubtedly be passed. I feel reasonably certain that the anti-trust law will not be repealed. On the other hand, there will be an effort to make it stronger. I do not believe there is any obscurity in the language of the statute now, but we will endeavor to clear up any obscurity, if there be any, and strengthen the statute. The anti-injunction bill, the contempt of court bill, the automatic women's compensation bill, and a great many other important bills will be considered."

Mr. Clark took occasion to enter emphatic denial of the report that he was in favor of the annexation of Canada, whether Canada wanted it or not, and that he was continuing to agitate the question.

REPORTS NOT DESTROYED.

Smithsonian "Error" Costs Only $29.64 to Correct.

It will reassure friends of the Smithsonian Institution and the families and friends of clerical employees there to learn that the "awful double error" in the annual report of the Smithsonian did not cause the "destruction of 10,000 copies."

The so-called "costly and embarrassing mistake" was just this: Through a clerical error, the name of Associate Justice Harlan was substituted for that of Chief Justice White in a sketch of the late Chief Justice. No copies of the report have been destroyed, and the error is being corrected at an actual cost of $29.64.

BOTH WEDDED BEFORE.

Experience Did Not Drive Cupid from Couple.

Experience has not frightened Cupid away from Alpheus Briggs, sixty-one years old, of Chittenden, Mass., and Mrs. Rebecca W. Briggs, fifty, of 1324 H street northwest. Both have been married before, and both have been left by death without their companions. They have again felt the dart of Cupid and tomorrow will stand before the marriage altar. Although bearing the same surname, Mr. Briggs and Mrs. Briggs are only distantly related. The first husband of Mrs. Briggs was a distant relative of the prospective second Mr. Briggs. The wedding will take place quietly at the home of the bride-to-be, in H street, at George H. Woodrow, of Woodrow, Md., who has long been acquainted with Mrs. Briggs, will officiate.

During the decade from 1901 to 1911 it is estimated that 220,000 Greeks emigrated to this country.

BERGER FAVORS PENSION MEASURE

Pledges Support to Policemen and Firemen.

FRIEND OF PUBLIC SERVANTS

Socialist, Congressman, and Member of House District Committee is in hearty accord with The Washington Herald's Movement to Provide Adequate Pensions.

The Washington Herald's movement for the enactment of legislation providing for an adequate pension fund for District police and firemen will receive the strong and faithful support of Representative Victor L. Berger, member of the House District Committee, at the coming session of Congress. The attitude of Representative Berger was announced yesterday by the District Commissioners, after reading a letter from the Congressman received by Fulton M. Brylawski, a well-known attorney, who has been deeply interested in the pension campaign.

Pledges His Support.

Representative Berger not only pledges his hearty support of the pension bill introduced at the instance of the Commissioners at a recent session of Congress, but declares that he is in favor of far more beneficial legislation in behalf of the District's public servants. The letter was signed by W. J. Ghent, secretary to Mr. Berger.

"Mr. Berger requests me to say that he is heartily in favor of the bill insuring pensions for the men in the fire and police departments of the District," reads the letter, "and that he will do everything that lies in his power to forward this measure. He is, of course, in favor of a pension measure of much greater scope than the one framed by the Commissioners, but this fact will not prevent him from giving his best support to this particular measure."

Poling Congress.

Mr. Brylawski received the letter in reply to communications sent to all members of the House District Committee and to other Congressmen, asking them to signify their position with respect to the pension measure. Several weeks ago Mr. Brylawski received answers from thirteen Congressmen, which were published verbatim in The Washington Herald. Mr. Brylawski has turned all the replies over to the Commissioners, in order that they may see the attitude of Congress with respect to the great movement. The attorney will hold a conference with Commissioner Rudolph on the pension question this week.

PATROL WAGON DRIVERS ASK INCREASED PAY

Declaring that their pay is pitifully small, considering the high cost of living, the long hours of work, and the nature of their employment, twenty-five patrol wagon drivers of the Metropolitan police department yesterday transmitted to the Commissioners a petition requesting that their pay be increased from $739 to $800 a year. The Commissioners are giving the matter consideration. "Our request," reads a portion of the petition, "is based on the obvious facts that our living expenses have increased with no corresponding increase in salary, that we are required to provide our own uniforms, that our hours of labor are long, and that much of our work is exceedingly hard. We ask only that we be given compensation which will enable us to keep our families in a manner commensurate with their real need and conditions."

Leaves All to Widow.

Naming his wife, Emmet E. Alexander, as sole beneficiary and executrix, the will of Charles Jerome Alexander, dated October 6, 1904, was filed for probate yesterday.

ADEE SIXTY-NINE YEARS OLD.

State Department Official Celebrates Birthday at His Desk.

Alvey A. Ade, Second Assistant Secretary of State, celebrated his sixty-ninth birthday yesterday by working as usual at his desk in the State Department. He received congratulations from his associates and his many friends in official life.

Mr. Ade was born in Astoria, N. Y., on November 27, 1842. He has served in the department since July 5, 1871. He was appointed to his present office by President Cleveland on August 3, 1898. Mr. Ade is in excellent health, and every year takes a bicycle trip abroad.

WAR MUNITIONS SEIZED.

Anti-Madero Sympathizers Reported Active at Laredo, Tex.

The seizure of a quantity of munitions of war, said to be the property of Mexican revolutionists, by United States authorities at Laredo, Tex., was reported to the War Department yesterday afternoon. Two complete field wireless sets were included in the materials confiscated.

According to the information received, Laredo is the chief center of the activities of the revolutionists and their anti-Madero sympathizers. Other places along the Texas-Mexican border are reported quiet. A squadron of cavalry has been sent to Brownsville, Tex., for the purpose of patrolling the border in that section.

Escapes Death by Scalding.

Three-year-old Vincenzo Mastarino narrowly escaped being scalded to death shortly before noon yesterday, when a tub of boiling water overturned on him at his home, 12 Purdy's court northwest. The child was scalded on the legs and hands. He was taken to Emergency Hospital, where his condition was said to be improved last night.

CROSCUP'S HISTORY WILL APPEAL TO WHOLE FAMILY

Young and Old Find Valuable Facts in Book Which The Herald Offers to Readers.

"I want another one of those histories," said a woman yesterday who came into The Washington Herald office, where the Croscup's United States histories are being distributed. "Perhaps the boy finds it hard to remember facts and dates. Then Croscup's History will help to pull his school average up to what it ought to be. The girl who says history is too difficult will find that the hard parts are easy and the easy parts are 'chuck' if she reads Croscup's."

That's why the woman wanted another book marked "Not to be taken from the house." Croscup's is a family book to be treasured along with Shakespeare. It's more practical than any five-foot shelf of books. Cut out the coupon printed elsewhere in this paper and the book is yours—if you are prompt. The new edition is going fast, so don't delay. Let some member of the family get busy and get it.

Will Hear "Frat" Advocate.

Supt. Davidson announced that he would grant a hearing this week to Roswell Snow, the Central High School graduate, who to represent the high school fraternities in their fight for existence.

Gen. Sternberg Reconsiders.

Commissioner Rudolph yesterday received a letter from Gen. George M. Sternberg, withdrawing his resignation as a member of the citizens' relief committee.
